The first system of the musical score consists of two staves, I and II. Staff I is divided into two parts, each with a treble clef. Staff II is also divided into two parts, each with a bass clef. The music is in common time (C). The first part of the system features a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes with slurs and triplets. The second part of the system features a more complex melodic line with slurs and triplets.

The second system of the musical score continues the two-staff structure. Staff I and II each have two parts. The music is highly melodic and features many slurs and triplets. The first part of the system features a complex melodic line with slurs and triplets. The second part of the system features a more complex melodic line with slurs and triplets.

The image displays two systems of musical notation, labeled I and II. Each system consists of two grand staves (treble and bass clefs). System I features complex piano parts with multiple triplets and slurs, while the bass part is mostly silent with occasional notes. System II has a more active piano part with triplets and slurs, and a bass part with a melodic line. The notation includes various accidentals, slurs, and triplet markings.
